

#WellesleyValues

As a member of the Wellesley community,

I promise to consciously and respectfully demonstrate

I will uphold the highest standards of academic honesty and respect for every person's story.

I promise to be an inclusive and respectful member of our community among identities.

I will respect the privacy and confidentiality of others.

I will practice active listening and respect for all voices.

I promise to create a safe and inclusive environment that treats every person with respect.

I will honor our common values and respect for each other's personal life and all other pursuits on and off campus.

I pledge to make every effort to be respectful and to support our global community.
